The Daily Bulletin of the 2010 North Carolina Wing Encampment

“Are those hash browns?” “Hmmm, no, I think those are hash tans.”

“Have some grits. They're good for you!” “Start the day off right!” – MSG Briggs, NCANG

Tomorrow's Weather Forecast:

HOT!

According to the Encampment Safety Officer, 1Lt. Beck, everyone is doing great so far, with only one case of mild dehydration that was quickly dealt with. Everyone needs to hydrate, and also look out for each other.

A very special thanks goes out to our friends with the North Carolina Army National Guard:

- MSG Barney Briggs
- PFC Tera-Marie Hall
- PV2 Christopher Hirschbolz
- SPC Vedica Lawson

For their hard work in keeping a lot of very hungry CAP personnel fed. Please take the time to thank them.

As you already know, from the OI and Cadet Knowledge booklet, CAP's first commander was Maj Gen John F. Curry. But did you know.....He was an active duty military officer, and is buried in Denver, Colorado. He still has family in the Denver area, and the Colorado Wing holds a ceremony each year in his honor, promoting cadet airmen with their first stripe during the ceremony.

ACTIVITIES, ACTIVITIES, ACTIVITIES!!!!!! A very busy day despite the big heat – Rappelling, Combat Simulator, Firearms, First Aid/CPR.....

PT! First activity of the Day!!

Obstacle Course!

MSG Briggs and crew, along with Maj Leslie Ingram, serving up an outstanding breakfast.

Rappel Tower! Only 50' tall.

The North Carolina Wing Encampment welcomes Lt Col Kevin Hubbard, USAF. Lt Col Hubbard is the CAP-USAF Commander, based out of Andrews AFB, Maryland.

Pictured below is Lt Col Al Johnson, N.C. Wing State Director, left, and Lt Col Kevin Hubbard, right.

From Chaplain Barwick:

Having a bad day?

“The average cost of rehabilitating a seal after the Exxon Valdez oil spill in Alaska was $80,000. At a special ceremony, two of the most expensively saved animals were being released back into the wild, amid cheers and applause from onlookers. A minute later, in full view, a killer whale at them both.”

Still Think You are Having a bad day?

A woman came home to find her husband in the kitchen shaking frantically, almost in a dancing frenzy, with some kind of wire running from his waist towards the electric kettle. Intending to jolt him away from the deadly current, she whacked him with a handy plank of wood, breaking his arm in two places. Up to that moment, he had been happily listening to his Sony Walkman.

STILL Think You Are Having a bad day?

Two animal rights protestors were protesting at the cruelty of sending pigs to a slaughterhouse in Bonn, Germany. Suddenly, all two thousand pigs broke loose and escaped through a broken fence, stampeding madly. The two hopeless protestors were trampled to death.

What? STILL Having a bad day?

Iraqi terrorist Khay Rahnajet didn't pay enough postage on a letter bomb. It came back with “return to sender” stamped on it. Forgetting it was the bomb, he opened it and was blown to bits.

There now, feeling better?

The incontrovertible proof – Ms Gaddy did indeed rappel off not just the lower tower, but the upper level as well:

Great Job Ms. Gaddy!!!

The North Carolina Wing Encampment is enormously grateful to the Bureau of Federal Prisons and Randy Jones and his staff with putting over 100 cadets through an awesome rappelling and obstacle course experience.

The North Carolina Wing Encampment is very grateful to the North Carolina Alcohol Law Enforcement Agency. Agents Mike Klingenschmidt, Robert Huneycutt, and Keith Quick, have been providing an excellent firearms training experience. Cadets and Seniors have had the opportunity to learn about and fire Kimber .45 Caliber pistols, Sig Sauer 552s, and AR-15 semi-automatic rifles. Even those who had a challenge handling the Kimber .45 pistols stuck with it and finished out their magazines.

Even our CAP-USAF Commander, Lt Col Kevin Hubbard got in on the action, firing both the Sig 552 and Kimber .45:
